

LEXINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

2023-2024 STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

Academic Honor Code

Lexington County School District One encourages students to maintain high standards of academic integrity and honesty. In an effort to clarify expectations, the following list provides examples of unacceptable acts of cheating:

- looking on someone else's quiz, test or exam;
- revealing items to someone who has not taken a quiz, test or exam;
- copying from others on assignments designated as independent work;
- referring to unauthorized notes and materials during a quiz, test or exam;
- positioning a paper or technological device into viewing range of another student during a quiz, test or exam;
- using unauthorized technological devices to complete or disseminate answers during a quiz, test or exam;
- using technological devices to secure work from another student's project;
- obtaining an unauthorized copy of a quiz, test or exam;
- plagiarizing a paper or using a paper written by another person (citation errors are handled during the writing process by classroom teachers) and/or plagiarizing work from another student's project; and
- attempting to take an online assignment or assessment for another student or allowing another person to complete an online assignment or assessment for another student.

Teachers and administrators treat cheating as a serious matter. Teachers will confer with the appropriate administrator to review evidence of any misconduct. Parents will be notified and a mandatory conference will be held with the student, parent/guardian, teacher and administrator.

Any behavioral consequence such as in school suspension will be explained at that time. After the conference is held, the student will be required to complete an appropriate assignment/assessment if needed. This work will be graded in lieu of the original assignment/assessment. If the student does not complete the assignment/ assessment by the due date, a zero will automatically be entered into the grade book.

If the offense occurs during a reassessment opportunity, the reassessment score will be dropped and the original grade will be recorded. The behavioral infraction of cheating will be documented through a discipline referral and noted in the student's discipline record. Behavioral consequences up to out-of-school suspension for repeated incidences of cheating will be administered at the discretion of the school-based administrator.

Attendance Policy

South Carolina law mandates that children 5 years old to 17 years old must attend school. The school year consists of 180 school days. The district considers students present only when they are actually at school, on homebound instruction, or present at an activity authorized by the school such as field studies, athletic contests, music festivals, student conventions and similar activities.

Absences and Excuses

The district considers students present only when they are actually at school, on homebound instruction or attending an activity authorized by the school such as field studies, athletic contests, music festivals, student conventions, etc. Due to the change of a federal law that governs the United States K–12 public education policy, the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), a student who is at school must be present for 51% or more of the school day (elementary) or period (secondary) to be considered present.

If absent, a student must present a written excuse signed by a parent/guardian, physician or other appropriate person within three days after returning to school.

The excuse must include the date the excuse is written, date of the absence, reason for the absence, telephone number where the parent/guardian may be reached and the required signature. If a student fails to provide a proper excuse, the excuse may be recorded as unexcused.

Students enrolled in a course for high school credit cannot accumulate more than five unexcused absences in a semester-long course or 10 unexcused absences in a year-long course to receive credit. This includes absences covered by parent excuses, which means that parent excuses count as unexcused absences in high school credit courses. A parent excuse, however, does enable the student to make up work missed.

Principals require a student who accumulates more than five absences in a semester or 10 absences in a year to provide a doctor's excuse for all medically related absences in order to receive course credit. Parents can routinely monitor absences by accessing their students' information in PowerSchool. If a parent has a question or concern about an absence, the parent should contact the school as soon as possible.

Principals have the authority to review absences in excess of 10 days (five days in a semester course) and to use their own discretion for follow-up. Any student who provides a false excuse will be referred to an administrator for disciplinary action.

Excused absences

The district gives excused absences for:

- ill students whose attendance in school endangers their health or the health of others, as determined by a doctor or the school nurse.

- students who are chronically ill. A doctor's statement explaining that the student does not need to see a doctor every time the illness occurs must be turned into the attendance office. Once the statement is on file with the school, the parent/guardian can inform the doctor of the occurrence of the illness and the doctor can fax the attendance office the excuse or the original may be picked up from the doctor and given to the attendance office when the student returns to school. (Schools do not accept faxes from parents/guardians.)
- students who must keep medical or dental appointments. Called-in doctor's notes are not accepted. The student must see the doctor for the absence to be excused except in cases where the student has been determined to be chronically ill as explained above.
- students who have prior permission from their high school administration to visit a college. Two excused absences in the junior year and two excused absences in the senior year are permitted. A note from the admissions office of the college visited must be turned into the attendance office.
- students who have an immediate family member who is seriously ill. A parent/guardian note stating that the family member is seriously ill must be turned into the attendance office.
- students attending a funeral of an immediate family member. A parent/guardian note must be turned into the attendance office.
- students participating in a recognized religious holiday of their faith. n students who have prior permission to participate in school-sponsored or school-approved activities.
- students who have unusual or mitigating circumstances as determined by the school principal.

Unexcused/unlawful absences

The district gives unexcused absences for:

- students willfully absent from school.
- students absent without the knowledge of their parents/ guardians for any reason other than those described in the previous section.
- students suspended from school.

After three consecutive unexcused absences or after a total of five unexcused absences, the principal or designee will identify the reason(s) for the student's continued absence and will, with the student and parent/guardian, develop a plan to improve that student's attendance. The student may be referred to a truancy prevention program or to court. Before a principal takes legal action, the principal will notify the parent/guardian and allow that parent/guardian to present information for appeal.

Three unexcused tardies (three minutes late) to any one class can count as an unexcused absence.

To participate, the student must otherwise have a passing course grade. Students with excessive absences in the first semester must attend SEARS at the end of the first semester. Discipline Information

The LHS Administrative Staff, in accordance with Lexington County School District One Board Policy JIC, expects the conduct of students at Lexington High School to reflect the educational goals of the school. No student has the right to interfere with the education of fellow students. It is the responsibility of each student to respect the rights and property of teachers, students, administrators, counselors and all others who are involved in the educational process. The administration expects all students to be aware of and follow all rules and regulations for student behavior and conduct.

The school board of Lexington County School District One requires students to respect authority, to conform to district and school rules and regulations, and to obey those provisions of law which apply to the conduct of juveniles or minors. A student will not repeatedly fail to obey school rules and the directions of teachers, student teachers, teachers' aides, principals, or other authorized school personnel during any period of time when he/she is under the authority of school personnel.

Any behavior considered to be inappropriate and disruptive to the learning environment that may not be specifically mentioned in this code will be handled in a manner the administration believes is most appropriate for all concerned.

Disciplinary Action Level

Each teacher has a concept of what good classroom management is and the ability to maintain discipline in most classroom situations. When an exception arises and a student refuses to obey school rules and to cooperate with the teacher, the teacher may appeal to the principal if the teacher's own efforts to provide direction to the student have failed. The levels of disciplinary action which shall be enforced by school administration with students who are in violation of school rules include:
